DEPARTMENT OF SPACE SECURITY AND EDUCATION

DEAR CAPSULEERS!

Space is full of dangers. Some are obvious. Others only become clear after you lose your ship.

The Nasty Girls alliance conducts educational outreach to raise pilots' awareness of the threats they may encounter while exploring space.

Our mission is to help you recognise dangers in time, assess risks, and understand the potential consequences of your decisions.

This publication is part of our educational programme and contains practical examples of situations any capsuleer may encounter.

We believe that every experience has educational value. Especially when your ship pays for it.

Respectfully,

Nasty Girls Alliance

Your contribution to the educational process may be involuntary.

A quiet system at the edge of the usual routes.

Nothing truly interesting happened here very often

Did you hear?
The alert has been going off more and more often lately.

CALLING...

Jam! Hi there!
I'm technically on vacation,
but it looks like I might need a little help.

I'm glad to hear from you too,
even after all these years.

There is a suspect in the system flying Gila.
The scout reports she's packed with batteries and has just slipped into the Abyss again - a tier that's off-limits in this system's security status.
CONCORD has cleared her for disposal!

We need tackle and neuts.

So a peaceful conversation is going off the table.
Got it, we're on it.

Well, that's one way to remind Highsec
we still exist.

Anyone without problems with Minmatar police - form up in 30 seconds.
Energy Neutralizers take priority!

We travel under our own power!

Lala, we'll be there in 7 minutes. Be ready to lead us to the target.

No problem, we still have around 10 minutes

Just enough time to finish my coffe.

7-8 minutes later

We're on position

Qshar Green - Eagle

VaaaaS - Pilgrim

GenaArmatura - Pilgrim

Set safety to yellow!

Some minutes later...

KRAAASH!

ZZZT

I'm fucked!
WARP OFF!!!
Get the SHIELDS UP!

CLACK!

Got point!

Agression from the suspect confirmed.

We can't break him, he's repping hard.

He'll be dry any second now.

My shields won't hold much longer. I'm planning a rewarp.

What do you mean, rewarp?
I'll cut down his drones!

Crash Booster

That's it, he's dry!

SOS, I'm being attacked
by schoolkids!

BAM!

KRAK!

I demand a CONCORD representative!

Who do you think I am?

THUD

Should we do something?

No. It looks like the matter is already being handled.

We should get going.
It was a pleasure
doing business.
If you need us, you know where to find us.

Thanks for the help!
See you around.

A bit later... somewhere around Hek.

Is this all that survived?

Were you expecting anything to be left after us?

Well, gentlemen, now we can finally get some rest.

Three poing one billion lost, and the loot is only worth one hundred twenty million...

We are not doing this for money. Still, it feels wrong to leave money behind.

Shall we invest?

Just not in ships... We've had enough of those today.

Three point one billon in damage, one hundred twenty million in loot. A fine day for piracy!
